

AT THE BAR OF JUSTICE.

Arraignments for Forgery, Burglary and Grand Larceny.

BURGLARS PLEAD GUILTY.

Simpson, charged with Deftending C. F. Annett, is Released.

A Second-Hand Dealer Convicted of Embezzling Household Goods—Trial of Sawyer—Burglars Given Two Years Each.

A number of arraignments were made in the Third district court yesterday, as follows:

William Golden and James McMurray were arraigned on an indictment charging them with stealing two horses from Mount & Griffin, of this city, on December 3, 1892, and asked for time to plead. They were ordered to appear this morning. The horses were stolen from Mount & Griffin's ranch, eighteen miles south of the city and McMurray was overtaken by Deputy Marshall Will Goodsell at Cedar Fort, with the horses in his possession. Golden, who left the city with McMurray, had returned to the city and was placed under arrest about the same time.

E. H. Brownell entered a plea of not guilty to forging the name of George E. Hall of The Herald Publishing Company to a check for $35 on January 2. Alfred Graham, charged with forging a check on the Denver National bank on Dec. 17, payable to James F. Hume and signed Don C. Tuttle, entered a plea of not guilty and his hearing was set for Feb. 23.

William Edgar, a funny looking little man, who looked as if he would make a good man for a minstrel show, was arraigned on the charge of burglarizing the store of John Brown in this city on Dec. 23, and taking therefrom certain goods, and entered a plea of not guilty. He stated that he was unable to employ counsel, and George Westervelt was appointed to defend him.

BURGLARS PLEAD GUILTY.

James Shay, William Miller and Richard Marburg were arraigned on two charges of burglary. To the first, Shay and Miller entered pleas of not guilty, and Marburg entered a plea of guilty. To the second charge, Miller entered a plea of not guilty, and Marburg pleaded guilty. The first charge was for burglarizing the store of Ross & Bart, on Richards avenue, and the second was for burglarizing John Spry's tailor shop on West South Temple street. Miller and Marburg both waived their right for sentence and were told to stand.

Marburg stated that he was 3 years of age and was a baker by trade. He came here from Golden, Colo., where he was raised and had never been accused of a crime before.

"You will be sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of two years," said the court, and Marburg sat down.

William Miller said he had been a teamster from his infancy and was born and raised in St. Louis. He had been in Salt Lake a few months when arrested and had never been arrested before. He was twenty-one years of age and was at work when arrested. He was also given two years.

A HANDSOME YOUNG MAN.

Guy Dumas, a strikingly handsome and well-built looking young man asked for time to plead to an indictment which charges him with having forged a check on Wells, Fargo & Co.'s bank payable to El Gordon and signed J. B. Hamilton, on Dec. 8, 1892, for $25.

Charles Miller, a sad looking young man with a growth of white fuzz on his face, said he was not guilty of burglarizing E. J. Waller's place of business in this city on Jan. 2 and his hearing was set for Feb. 24. W. C. Kelly was appointed to defend him.

Peter Frazier, charged with forging a check drawn on the Union National bank, payable to Dr. J. H. Heron, and signed by W. E. Warner, asked for time to plead and was ordered to appear this morning. Frazier stated that Fred Kesler would defend him.

PARDON BEFORE CONVICTION.

Charles Spencer, charged with having burglarized the store of Wisconsin Bros. on January 8, failed to answer to his name and Mr. Stephens stated he had been pardoned. Spencer is an old employee of the firm and it was upon their recommendation that he was pardoned.

SIMPSON RELEASED.

He was charged with Deftending C. F. Annett.

J. R. Simpson, charged with obtaining $150 under false pretenses from Mr. C. F. Annett of this city some time ago, was yesterday released from the penitentiary upon his own recognizance on motion of Mr. Stephens. Simpson was arrested in Omaha several months ago and brought back here to answer to the charge. He stated to a HERALD reporter yesterday that subsequent to his arrest in Omaha an attorney came to him and told him that they intended to dismiss the charge, and at the same time asked him to sign a paper agreeing not to prosecute Annett if turned loose. This Simpson refused to do and he was released from the penitentiary on his own recognizance. For some time past he has been suffering from vertigo and rheumatism, but he stated that he intended to return to Utah without a requisition. He also returned to Utah without a requisition. For some time past he has been suffering from vertigo and rheumatism, but he stated that he intended to return to Utah without a requisition. He also returned to Utah without a requisition.

EMBEZZLED THE GOODS.

Miller, the Second Hand Man, Found Guilty.

The case of Frank Miller, charged with grand larceny, was resumed before Judge Zane yesterday morning, and reached the jury about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Miller is charged with having embezzled $1,500 worth of household goods from W. E. Pattison, on May 27, 1891. The complaining witness alleges that he stored the goods with Miller, who was a second hand dealer, and that sometime subsequent Miller converted the property to his own use.

Miller alleges that he took the goods from Pattison and paid certain charges on them, and that Pattison gave him a bill of sale for the goods for $65, agreeing to redeem them within thirty days for $75. Later he advanced Pattison $15 more on the lot and as they were not redeemed as agreed, Miller sold them.

After being out an hour, the jury returned into court with a verdict of guilty as charged and found that the value of the goods were $500. They further found that the defendant had not been acquitted, as alleged in his plea, by a former judgment in the Third district court, and that he had not been in jeopardy on any former occasion. Miller was ordered to appear for sentence next Saturday.

THE SAWYER TRIAL.

The burglary in which Mrs. Adams was Nearly Killed.

The case of F. M. Sawyer, charged with burglary, was taken up in the district court yesterday and proceeded with until the adjournment hour.

ing the house of Phillip Adams, colored, on Oct. 25, 1892, and it will be remembered that Mrs. Adams was assaulted by the intruder and almost killed. Sawyer will attempt to prove an alibi, and in addition to this has a previously good record to assist him in his defense. The hearing will be resumed this morning.

Probate Court Orders.

The following orders were made in the probate court yesterday:

A REGGEL'S ROW SUIT.

Property Valued at Fifty Thousand Dollars Is Involved.

Imposing Array of Counsel—Attorney Meyer Makes Serious Charges Against Mr. Pierce—A Railway Damage Case.

The case of Harriet Tuttle Drake et al. vs. Rachael Reggel et al. is on hearing before J. L. Rawlinson as referee. The suit is a very important one, involving the title to property known as Reggel Row, on Fifth South street, between First and Second West, and valued at about $50,000. There is a very formidable array of legal talent on the respective sides of the case and it is being stubbornly contested by all parties interested. Dickson & Stone and Sutherland & Judd appear for the plaintiffs and the interests of the defense is being looked after by Bennett, Marshall & Bradley, M. Dowell & Lytle, C. B. Jack, Williams & Van Cott, Richards, Moyle & Richards, S. P. Armstrong and F. G. Walte.

Verdict was rendered for the defendants.

SEVERE ON PIERCE.

Attorney Meyer Charges Him With Perjury—The Beck-McHugh Case.

The case of Edward F. Beck vs. Charles H. McHugh et al., on an alleged real estate contract, was resumed in Judge Bartch's department of the Third district court yesterday morning, and during the argument of George W. Meyer, for the plaintiff, that gentleman made some serious charges against Frank Pierce, counsel for the defendants. In Mr. Pierce's argument the preceding day he referred to the fact that the plaintiff had not come into court with clean hands.

Mr. Meyer retorted yesterday by declaring that Mr. Pierce had made sworn statements in the answers filed in the case that he knew were false, and that his client had admitted on the stand that the statements made were not true. Mr. Meyer further declared that the records of the court would show that Mr. Pierce had used the same deceptive practice in other cases.

After Mr. Meyer had concluded his argument Mr. Pierce stated that there was no occasion for making such charges, but Mr. Meyer informed him that an investigation could be readily had if he desired it.

At 2 o'clock Judge Bartch rendered his decision in the case, finding in favor of the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued for $2,498.38 alleged to be due in payment of the proceeds derived from the sale of lots in a tract of land which he had purchased a one-third interest in, and further asked that the defendants be ordered to deed to him sixteen lots which remained unsold.

A RAILWAY DAMAGE CASE.

A Property Owner Objects to the Proximity of Tracks.

The case of Martha Ann Coombs vs. the Salt Lake & Fort Douglas and Utah Central Railway companies was taken up before Judge Bartch yesterday. The plaintiff alleges that the first named company constructed a railway track diagonally adjacent to her property at the intersection of U and First streets in 1888, and that the other company has continuously run trains over the said track since that time. It is further alleged that the operation of said road has greatly injured plaintiff's property and that the excess and injury has been destroyed by the construction of a certain "Y" at the junction of U and First streets. Hence the plaintiff prays that an injunction be granted against the defendants and for damages in the sum of $2,000 or whatever sum may be deemed as just and equitable. Also for the sum of $500, or whatever the court may deem just and equitable, on condition that the plaintiff deed the said property to the defendants. The case was proceeded with up to the hour of adjournment and will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

AN INSUFFICIENT NOTICE.

A Delinquent Thoroughbred Is Given More Time to Answer.

In the case of George Thurgood vs. Charlotte E. Thurgood, before Judge Bartch, in which the plaintiff had been notified to show cause why he did not pay the defendant alimony, as ordered at the time when she was granted a decree of divorce on her cross-complaint, the plaintiff alleged that he had not been served with sufficient notice and was allowed five days additional from date. The hearing will now come up before Justice Talbot on Feb. 21. Mrs. Thurgood alleges that her ex-husband is concealing his property, as on a former examination the referee reported that he had nothing which could be applied upon the payment of judgment rendered against him in favor of his wife.

GEE'S ENTERTAINMENT.
